24. David Robert Joseph Beckham (born May 2, 1975) is an English footballer who has played for Manchester United, Real Madrid, AC Milan, in the US soccer league and Paris St Germain. Outside of football, he also created his own brand of clothing and is one of the most iconic sportsmen. Beckham was fondly known as becks and “Whipp’s Cross” after the hospital due to his accurate crossing skills and also because he was born there. Beckham is the 2nd most capped England player of all time (115 games). He is also the only Englishman to score in three different World Cups. Beckham has twice been voted the runner-up for FIFA World Player of the Year. He was captain of the English national team from 15 November 2000 to 2 July 2006. In his first world cup, David Beckham was sent off in the quarter-final against Argentina for a petulant kick – a game England went on to lose. This made him a public enemy number one. However, he redeemed himself during the next few seasons especially his spectacular last-minute free kick against Greece enabled England to qualify for the 2002 World Cup finals. In January 2013, David Beckham signed a five-month contract to play for French La Ligue 1 side – Paris St Germain. The 37 year old said he would donate his £1 million salary to a local children’s charity. Recently, Beckham has been based in the US where he plans to start a new MLS franchise in Miami, with Beckham as the principal owner. Beckham has also been a model for major clothing line Calvin Klein, has launched his own line of fragrance for men and has 40 tattoos.
